Letter of recommendation for Robert Hedlerfog

Dear Sir or Madam,

Robert was a fellow Computer Science student at Lund University, Sweden. We regularly worked alongside each other in the computer labs on various programming assignments. As a student, he was exceptionally driven with a natural affinity for software production in general, and natural languages and artificial intelligence in particular.

After graduation we stayed in touch and have since worked on projects initiated by Paul Cronholm (Crunchfish/Hugskott Invest). At one time we even considered going into business together. Robert's professional contribution consisted primarily of knowledge in linguistics, translation and localization/internationalization, but also in areas such as UI design, testing, and general troubleshooting. His insight and comments in those areas consistently proved invaluable.

Roberts is just as capable in the soft skills areas. He doesn't wait around for things to happen; he takes charge of the situation at hand with the focus on delivering a great end-product on time. He handles responsibility well, even under stress and he has a knack for creative thinking on his feet.

As you may understand, I would warmly recommend Robert to any software project in need of a passionate and versatile software professional.

If I can be of any further assistance, or provide you with any further information, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Magnus Dahl
